

PREPARATION FOR THE EXTERNALISATION

The purpose of these writings is to convey the next steps in the scheme of evolution for an epoch without precedent. Ancient landmarks will steadily fade away as subtler light pervades the minds of human beings, especially those who seek to aid the Great Ones. To aid the Hierarchy involves more than simply knowing that this is a transitional period between two ages and watching from an observing stance.

We would ask you to put these questions to yourselves:

- How am I aiding in the process of manifesting the Higher Realities of which I am aware?
- As the old world slips away, what am I doing to replace it in my own sphere of life?
- How can I aid the Masters in bringing the inner ashram outward into the world of humanity?

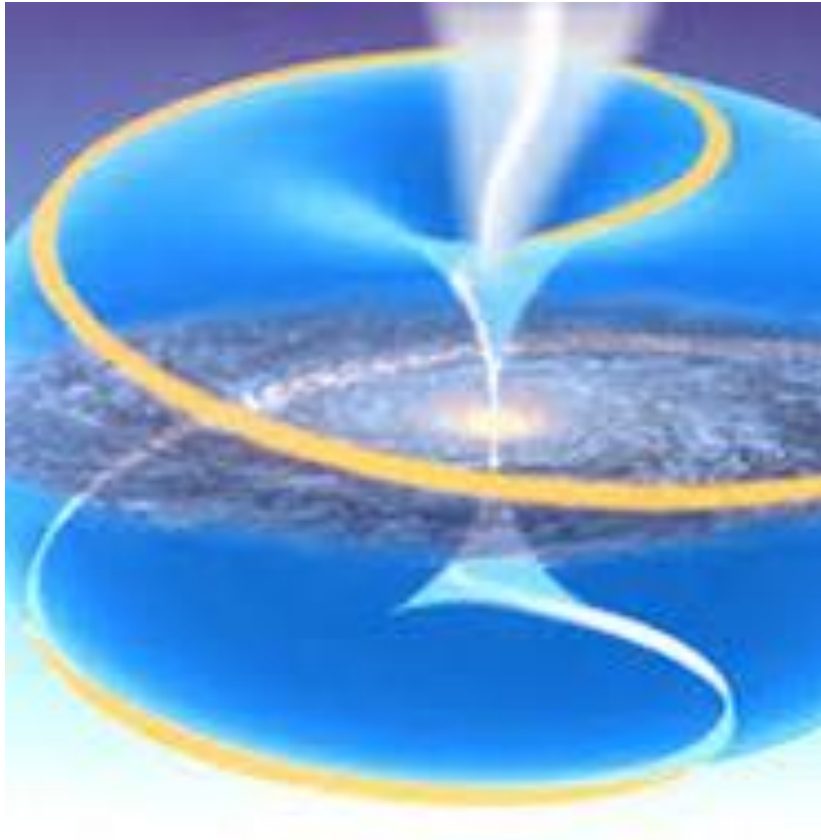

We realize that these are not easy questions to answer.

Most people who will read this text have seen themselves as fellow disciples in a school for discipleship training that exists separately from the world of the Masters, rather than as agents of the Hierarchy.

The living bridge of light--the antahkarana--has not yet been built into the higher worlds. It is time to realize that much depends upon your generating the solar fire to activate a conscious connection with the ashram of which you are a part.

From our end of the spectrum little remains to be done before re-entering the outer world—by which we mean the etheric-physical plane of Earth. The process was set in motion in 1945 by the decision of the Christ to return to outer manifestation and since that time the Hierarchy has been actively preparing for the descent to a plane of relative density.

What has been elusive until now, and remains so, is a lighted bridge across which We can safely return to direct involvement in human affairs while preparing the way for our Teacher and Master, the Christ.

In times such as these, all must proceed with due deliberate speed. Of concern is that the weakest link in the chain of externalization is that of disciples, those who have the capacity to provide the electric current to unite their span of the bridge to ours but have not yet fully developed it.

The question of urgency will hopefully evoke a greater sense of responsibility to assess your life in terms of becoming a living link in the planetary chain of consciousness. Can you yet see who you are in potential? Can you find the means to quicken that latent potential to aid in preparing the way for the appearance of the Masters?

It is important to comprehend the developmental nature of the outward thrust of the Hierarchy into the world. It is not a single Event, though mistakenly cast as that—like the wishful idea that a Messiah will suddenly appear and instantly right the wrongs of the world and end all human suffering.

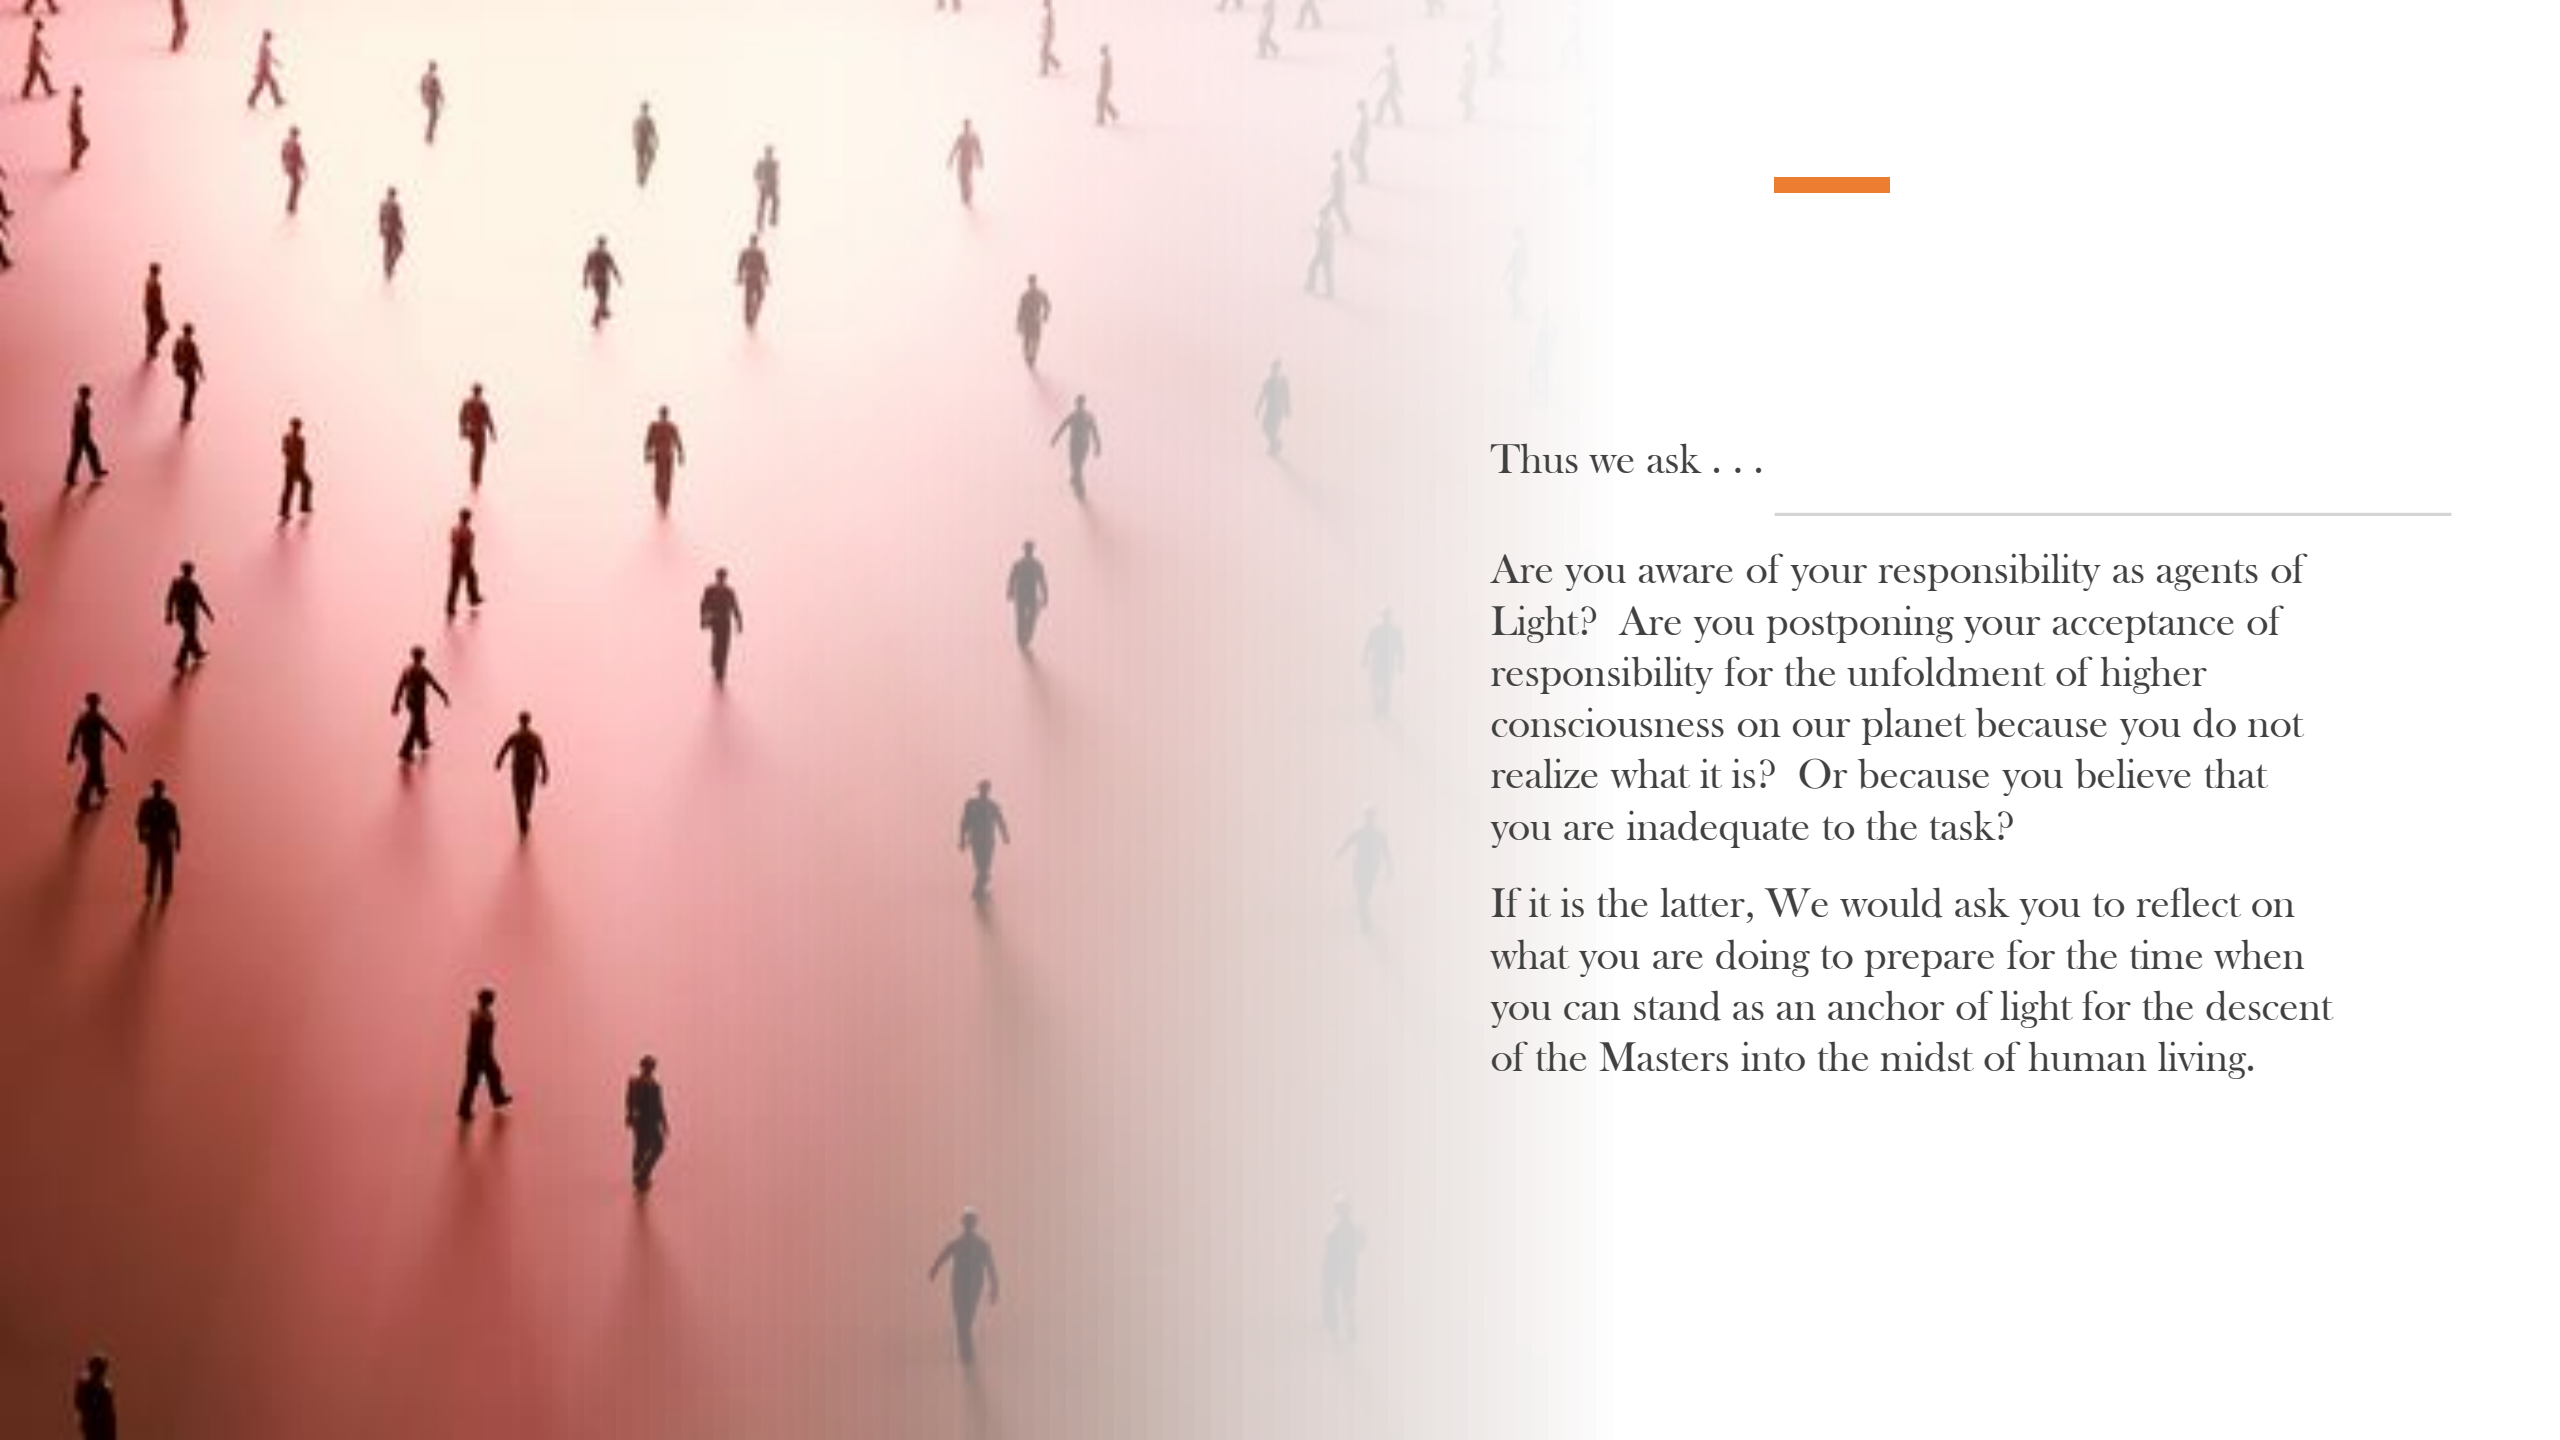

Missing from this simplistic view is an understanding of the transformation of human consciousness that was seeded two thousand years ago by the Christ and is only now beginning to bear fruit on a large scale. The human heart was to have opened to the suffering of humanity to the extent that people would come to see each other as brothers.

Instead, we have seen unspeakable carnage, more primitive than the behavior of the animal kingdom, and which belongs to the past, to the world that is dying, to the consciousness of animal-men.

It is also true that the light of a new humanity is simultaneously making itself seen and felt in the emerging Aquarian consciousness of the New Group of World Servers, which is increasingly demonstrating the spirit of brotherhood. However, the disciples of the world have a different role to play in ushering in the new age and that is the subject of this writing.

Thus we ask . . .

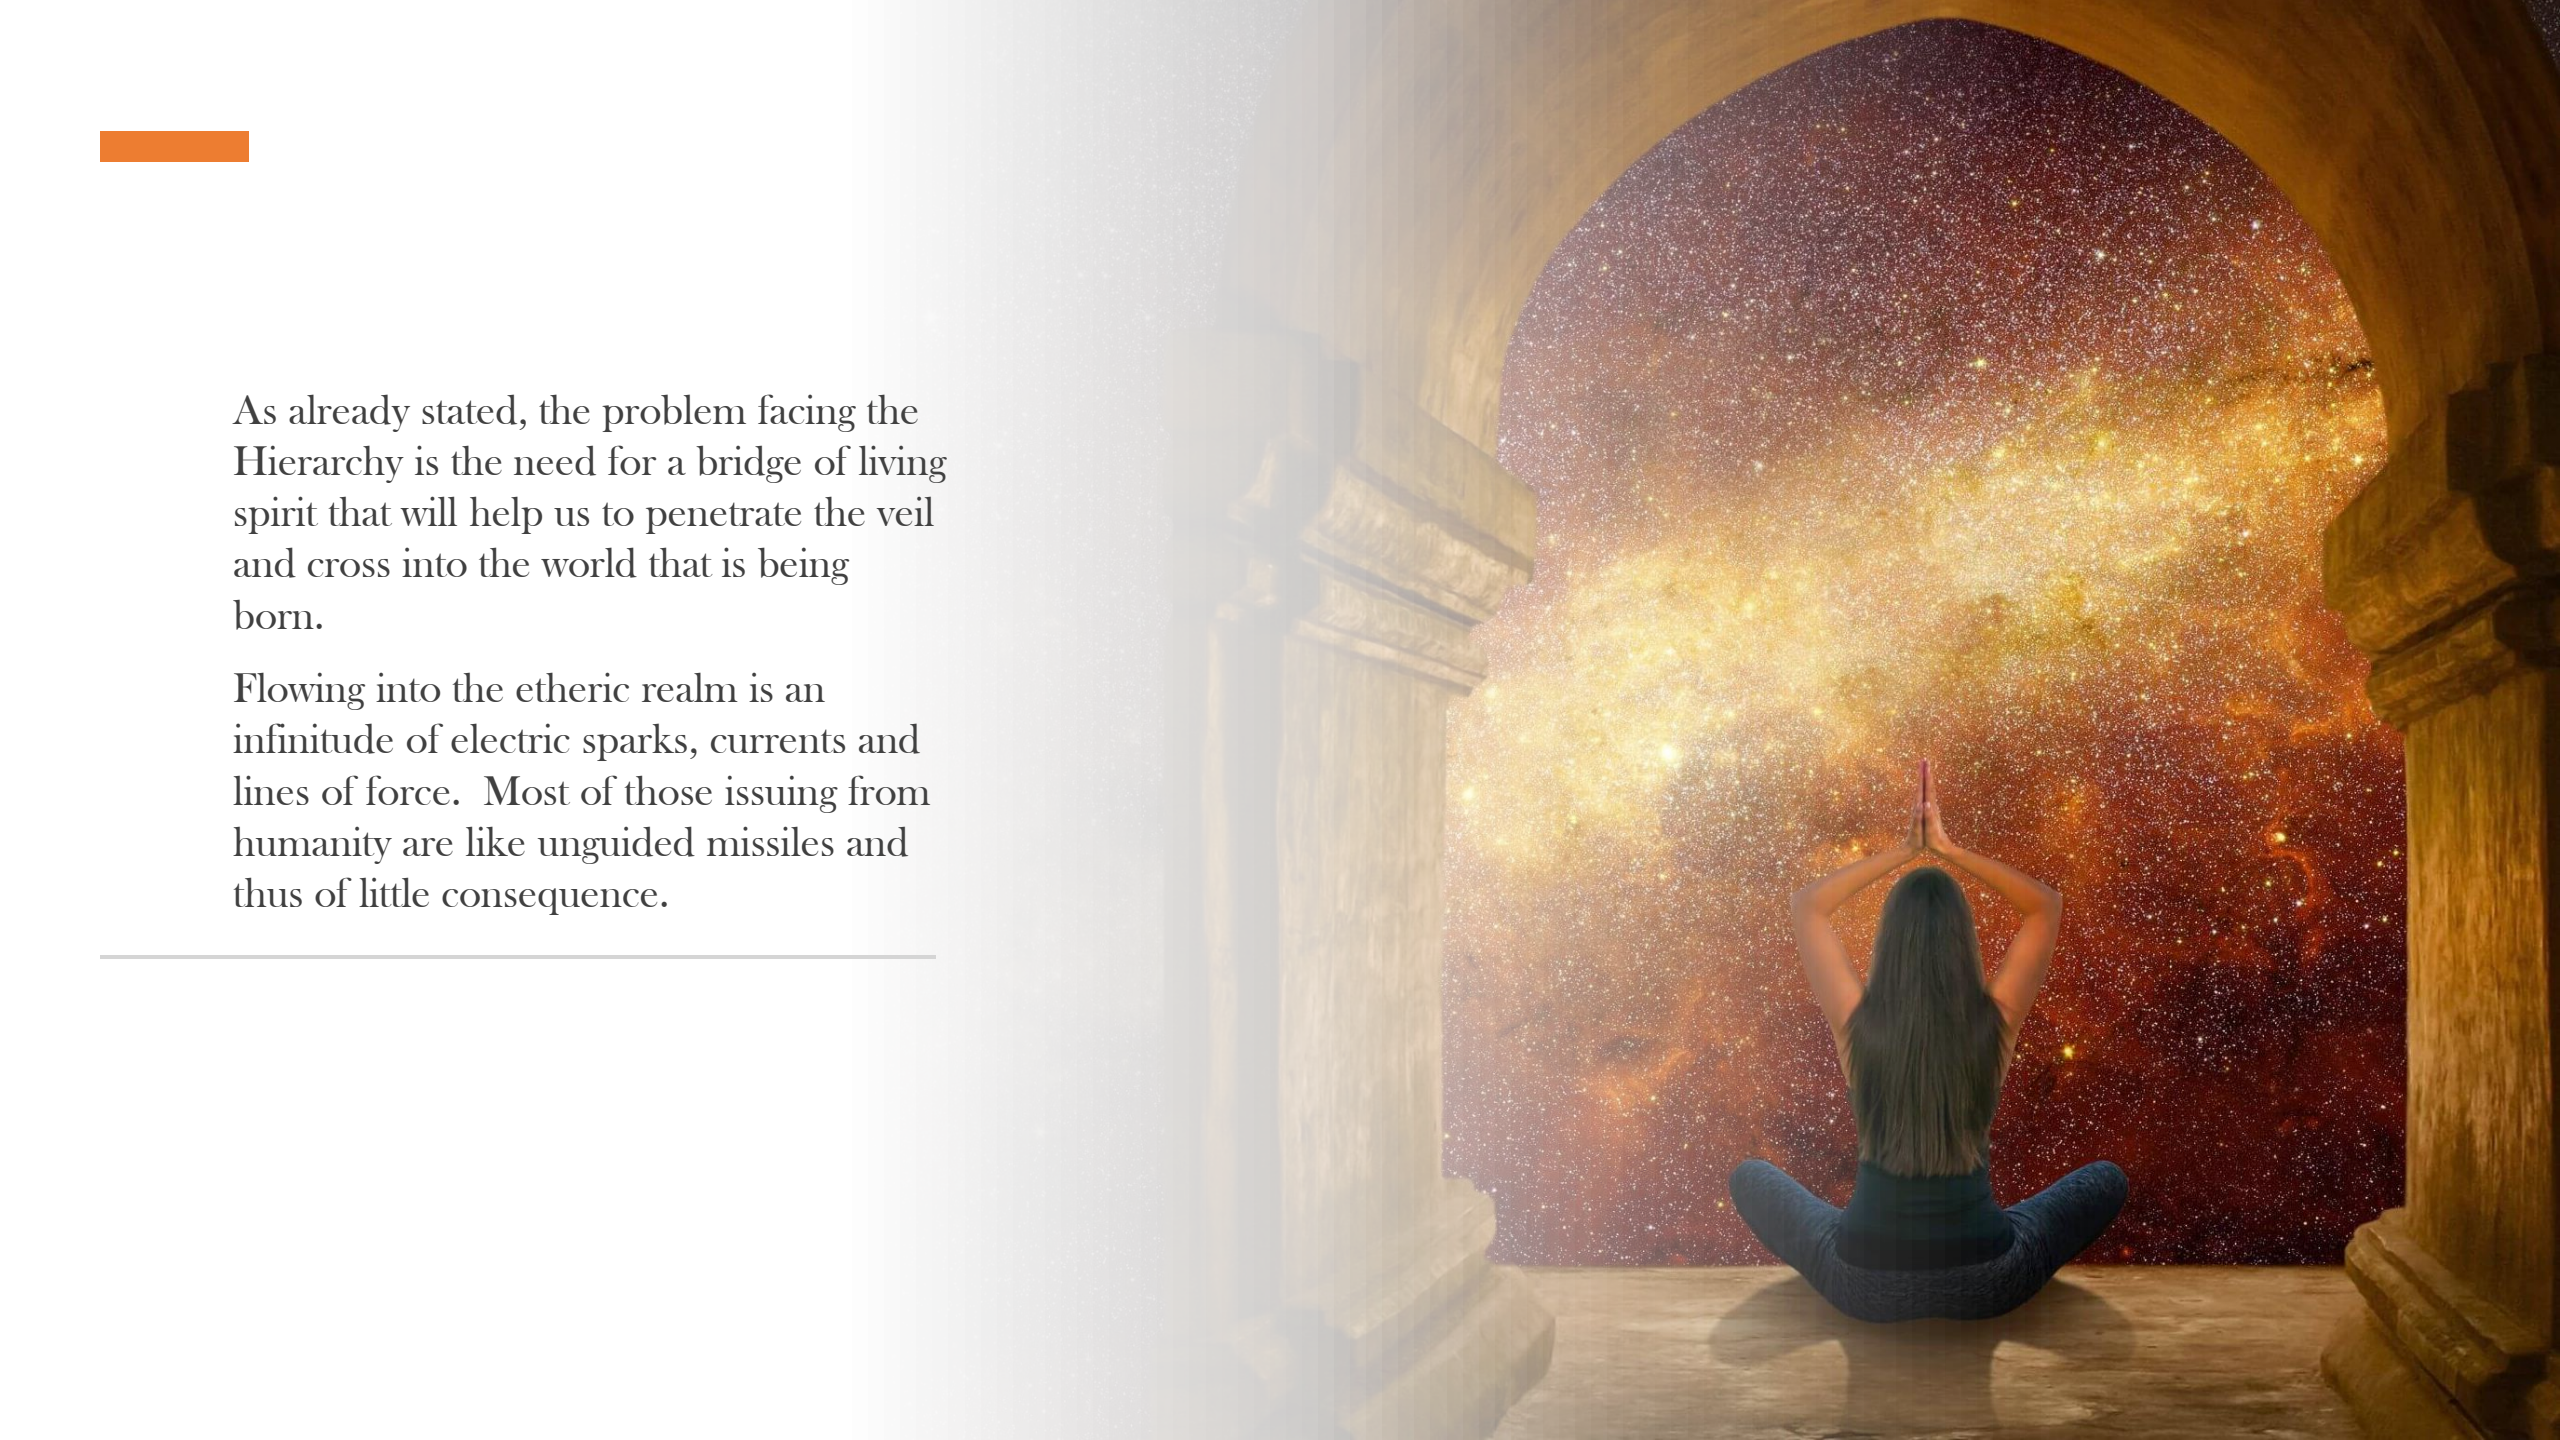

Are you aware of your responsibility as agents of Light? Are you postponing your acceptance of responsibility for the unfoldment of higher consciousness on our planet because you do not realize what it is? Or because you believe that you are inadequate to the task?

If it is the latter, We would ask you to reflect on what you are doing to prepare for the time when you can stand as an anchor of light for the descent of the Masters into the midst of human living.

We pose these questions in the hope that you can draw forth from the depths of your souls a response that will aid the Hierarchy in materializing the great events that lie on the horizon. We are always ready to respond to the invocative calls of those who tread the path of return with such commitment that the light of the soul has begun to shine forth. They are the ones with whom we seek to work at this crucial hour.

Our goal is to ‘install’ many beacons of light upon the Earth to herald the Coming One through the very essence of their being.

A woman with long dark hair, wearing a dark blue top and pants, is sitting in a meditative pose (Padmasana) on a stone floor. She is facing away from the camera, looking out through a large, arched stone opening. Her hands are pressed together in a prayer position (Anjali Mudra) above her head. The view through the archway is a vast, colorful starry sky, likely the Milky Way galaxy, with a dense field of stars and nebulae in shades of orange, red, and yellow. The archway is supported by two large, fluted stone columns. The overall atmosphere is serene and contemplative.

As already stated, the problem facing the Hierarchy is the need for a bridge of living spirit that will help us to penetrate the veil and cross into the world that is being born.

Flowing into the etheric realm is an infinitude of electric sparks, currents and lines of force. Most of those issuing from humanity are like unguided missiles and thus of little consequence.

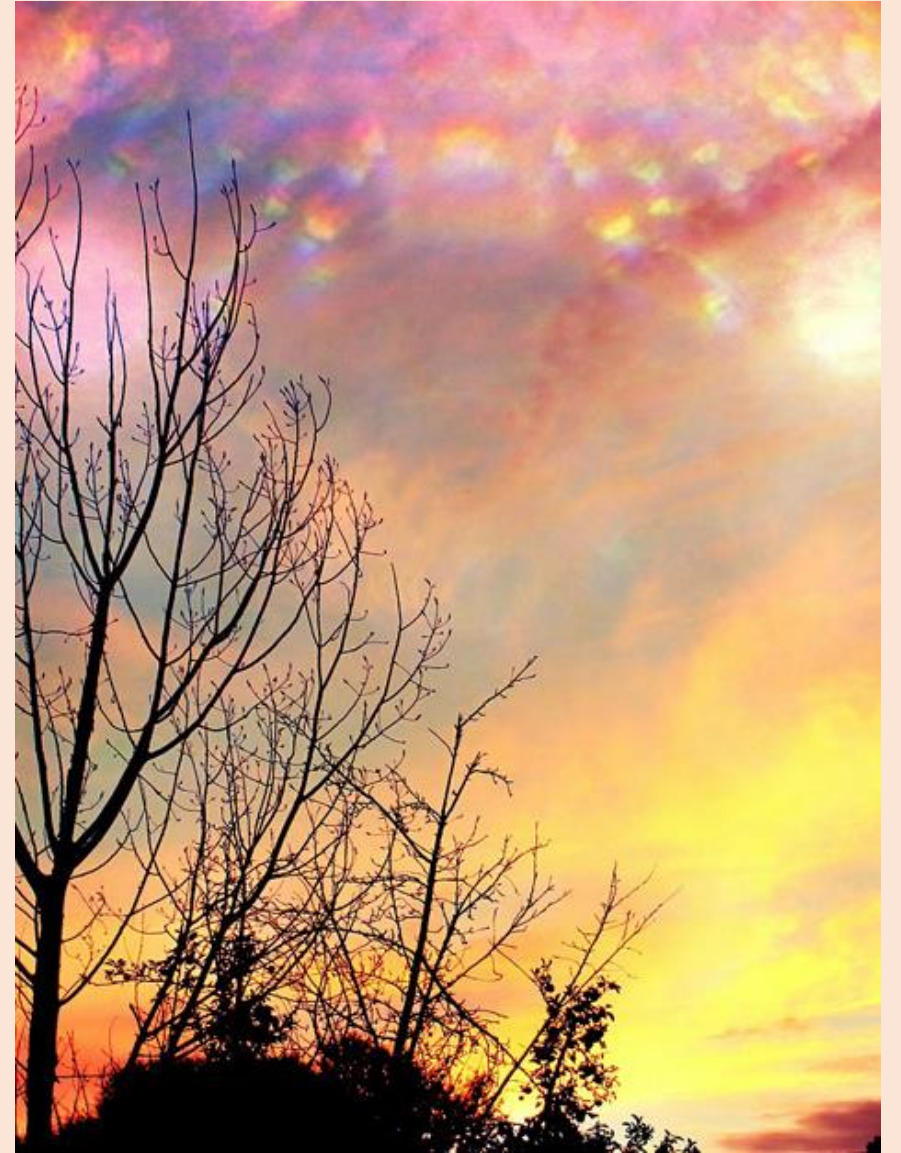

To generate an event of the magnitude that We are concerned with—a great processional of light involving a vast number of conscious participants—requires a transmission ‘station’ of focused intensity and a reception ‘station’ of parallel focus and intensity. Establishing the latter is the work of disciples and initiates, of whom there are relatively few.

It is for this reason that we address this letter to disciples, most of whom have viewed the process of externalization largely as an Event outside the purview of human beings, whereas in truth it is most emphatically dependent upon the cooperation of human beings who are in process of transforming themselves into spiritual beings and future members of the Hierarchy.

Imagine the power unleashed by the Hierarchy when the decision is made to enter into etheric form. It would be equivalent to an electric current of great force. However, without an outlet, such force would be useless and possibly destructive.

Imagine an explosion of blinding light that lasts for a few moments and dissipates. Then envision a strong and sustained current of light between two power stations—one that transmits and the other that receives and distributes the energy. This is the context in which we would ask you to see your role as this time of the forerunner comes to a close and the new era begins in consciousness.

The world group of disciples and initiates has the capacity to ‘turn on the switch’ that will allow light of a higher voltage to flow into the world in preparation for the Elder Brothers to appear on the plane of human living. This is done by removing inner blockages to the downpouring light.

The groundwork has been laid for the revelation of higher Reality by Our Brother, Djwhal Khul, who unveiled this great evolutionary process and provided the methods by which spiritual aspirants could tread the path to the point of consciously entering into the life of the Spiritual Hierarchy.

Presently, within the growing ranks of aspirants an embryonic understanding of the Masters is blending with a vague expectation of their greater involvement in human affairs. But this Reality has yet to filter into human awareness. In order for it to materialize, members of the New Group of World Servers who stand at the periphery of the Ashram must play their destined role. This is the immediate next step in the Hierarchy's emergence.

A planetary process of unfoldment is taking place that must be seen as a seamless whole in the minds of those prepared to participate in it. It is not something that lies outside of you but actually depends upon those who are reading this in a most vital sense.

Gone are the days when discipleship can be viewed as an isolated stage on the path of return. It is time to re-envision this stage as a crucial link in the ascending-descending chain of hierarchical consciousness that pervades this planet Earth and the entire Universe.

You already form part of this vertical axis though few have realized to what extent. The vertical arm of the cross of Life on Earth consists of co-existing stages of consciousness rising from the unawakened masses to the spiritual probationers, aspirants, disciples, initiates, arhats, masters, chohans, the Council of Shamballa and beyond. You already know that such a vertical plane exists and can perhaps find your rightful place within it.

We ask you now to imagine how the world will change when this vertical axis of life becomes visible. Hold this idea in your mind until it becomes a possible reality for you. This is the event in which you are being called to take an active part.
