

A NEW

In the beginning there was Light.
After billions of years that light became obscured by matter. Earth is now returning toward the realm of Light with the added light of human awareness wrought out of experience in the density of matter.
Advanced souls have always managed to find their way to the light of Spirit, one at a time.

In the future, large groups of souls will enter the higher realms and realize that inner Teachers have guided them by 'dropping parcels of light' into their minds.

In the new world, powerful rays of light generated by higher Forces will flood the landscape. Among these Forces will be members of the planetary Hierarchy of Perfected Lives known as Masters of Wisdom. Their radiations of truth will stream into the minds of receptive human beings like light waves, with far less interference than at present.

Imagine a transmission of truth through a merging of rays of mutual resonance. When the frequency of a disciple is of a similar quality to that of a Master, the condition exists for the direct transfer of wisdom and truth.

Human evolution will shift from a world measured by meters and pounds to a world woven together by filaments of light and love. Awareness will move with lightening speed through events materialized by the consciousness of a particular soul toward goals of that individual's choosing.

The human aspiration to greater light will arouse Masters of Wisdom to emerge into plain sight, further stimulating the body of forces working toward the ultimate goal of the Planetary Logos: to elevate the consciousness of Earth to the point where it may join the ranks of other planets in our solar system that have achieved the designation "sacred."

The Aquarian Age [the lesser cycle of approximately 2,200 years] will see the start of the spiritualization of Earth's life. Human souls working in cooperation with the Kingdom of Souls will radiate their own light into the lesser kingdoms, thus serving the evolution of planetary life.

The close of the greater Aquarian cycle [of 26,000 years] will see the return of the state of purity that existed before 'the fall,' when Earth was a 'Garden of Eden.' The garden despoiled by human will is destined to be restored by human will in alignment with Divinity.

Awakened souls, having endlessly traversed the valleys of earth and withstood its relentless travails, will find a 'garden' in which to tread the path toward the Light of Spirit. The Garden of Eden returns in a new guise. God supplied Adam and Eve with everything needed to thrive until they disobeyed God's will and were exiled from the garden.

Esoterically, the divine spark embarked on the downward arc of involution into matter to experience the consequences of the wrong use of personal will, so that the spark would consciously discover itself and freely choose the Path to reunion with Divinity. The flowers in the new garden will be compassion and understanding, love and wisdom, communion and a realized synthesis of all Life.

AN INFLUX OF LIGHT

With the influx of cosmic light that converts matter into energy, there will be a withering away of obstructions to light—in the realms of consciousness and form. Visionary artists are already breaking through old boundaries to render the subtle body's system of chakras and nadis as coruscating streams of light.

Scientists are hypothesizing that 'dark matter,' 'dark energy,' and 'black holes,' which constitute nearly all of life in the Universe, may be masses of substance hiding light too subtle for their instruments to detect. Blackness and darkness are to the physical world what energy and light are to etheric vision.

The goal of this transition to a new age is nothing less than a restructuring of Earth beginning with the roots of consciousness. From there it will organically mold and shape the new forms of life.

Sparks of divinity are fanning one another, creating a reservoir of light that pervades and surrounds the Earth. A downpour of divine Light will soon cause this reservoir to overflow, bringing an expansion of consciousness that will change everything.

Every soul drawn into the upward spiral of light will be nourished by soul groups of the same vibration. Those who hear the voice of conscience and are sensitive to the inner light are the trailblazers of the new civilization.

Those who experience the new Reality in the depths of their beings are leading humanity upward on the ladder of evolution to the rung where the collective potential of the human Soul will blaze forth.

The advantage of elevating the consciousness of all lives will be evident on the etheric plane, where the singularity of Earth will be observed. The greater the light, the more enlightened the civilization.

To enter an age of light is to enter the world of energy that has been masked by matter. Imagine that you could see the etheric substance of a watermelon—not the fleshy fruit and seeds, but the patterns of sub-atomic energy wavelets within the cells of a watermelon.

Scientists have known that all is energy since the time of Einstein but could not have grasped the full implications of this fact at that earlier time.

The dawn will break on a world of electric energy where consciousness shapes subtle form as a potter's hands have shaped clay. The past will be obliterated in a fleeting moment and a world of light will stand revealed. In this new world humanity will achieve extraordinary spiritual heights.
