

OUR STAR
AND ITS SYSTEM

If you are reading these words, you have most likely anticipated changes in the realm of energy and light. Light itself will be the firmament of the new earth. Light is the substance of energy and the living spirit that vitalizes all lives. Light is also the essence of consciousness.

The light of truth is to the awakening soul what the light of the sun is to a budding rose. This is basic to understanding the world of the Aquarian Age. There will be many shades of grey, but the atmosphere will be permeated by the higher frequencies of light that will cause shadows to gradually recede.

Light is a radiatory force emitted by a great Being.

In the case of our Earth this Being is the Sun. In the case of the Sun, this Being is “The One about Whom Naught Can Be Said.” Just as all forms have subtler dimensions, so does light itself. The subtler light of our Star fuels the light of higher consciousness.

Has it ever occurred to you that the reason human beings have not discovered life on other planets is that they cannot perceive subtler worlds, and that more advanced species may exist in other star systems in forms undetectable by the physical eye?

Myriad new worlds will appear to the etheric eye.

The Sun will become the centre of Earth's life, while infinite centres of life in the Universe will become known through etheric vision.

Humanity will grow increasingly aware of the living relationship between Earth and other planets in the solar system, between Earth and the Sun, and between the Sun and the Galaxy. The result will be a sense of right proportion as people come to see Earth as part of a community of planets in one interrelated system -- a minor planet in terms of the light it currently generates. Within the greater galaxy, Earth is akin to a single cell in a human body.

Recent solar flares are signalling the start of a new era by their magnitude, frequency and intensity, all of which bring the Sun as a living Being closer to human awareness. Violent storms on the Sun are a means of sloughing off excess fiery substance to maintain homeostasis and purify the atmosphere.

Earth is being bombarded by these intense radiations of energy from our star, and from other planets and constellations, all of which are breaking up crystallized conditions and states of consciousness to expose a higher order of synthesis among infinitudes of lives.
