

THE PLAN
EVOLUTION

In the beginning there was light, and the light was destined to confront darkness to become conscious of itself. After eons of descent into matter, the human soul has begun its ascent into the realm of spirit. It is obvious that much of the race remains bound by matter, pushing against the tide of evolution and having to await a future cycle to climb out of darkness.

Yet many are arising from the tomb of matter and breathing the rarefied air of spirit. This is the germ of the Christ story that will become the story of all who awaken to the higher Self. The disappearance of Christ's body from the cave of matter is the foundation stone of the Age of Light. Spiritual alchemy turned flesh and blood into the light of spirit, unconstrained by the illusory solidity of form.

Few will enter the next dimension fully conscious of the soul and its body of light. Such a state of awareness arrives at the culmination of lifetimes in the vale of suffering, when the Soul's persistent prodding yields a seeker of truth. From there the path to higher evolution unfolds.

Along the way the Soul reveals that its purpose differs from that of its persona, thereby igniting the fires of redemption that ultimately reveal the light of love and wisdom that is Christ consciousness. When the lower self is purified of base motives, light infuses the human form to the point that it becomes light itself.

This is the path for which Christ laid the first paving stone. His purpose was pivotal to the evolutionary trajectory of the planet. He came to restore the reality of Spirit in human awareness and reveal the way back to the Father, the progenitor of planetary Life, and the course of its evolution.

Two thousand years ago the life of Christ initiated the turning of human minds toward the Path of Return to Spirit -- first among his disciples, then among the saints and arhats, now among all who are arising from the prison of matter.

While dwelling in the realm of the Father, the planetary center where the Will of God is known and from where the Love of God radiates, Christ has prepared to re-enter the world in the Age of Light when all will be clothed in bodies of light. The Masters of Wisdom will appear like stars in the sky lighting up their surroundings. The Christ, the head of the planet's spiritual Hierarchy, will re-enter this world bearing a teaching that will further the divine plan of evolution.

This teaching will include the path by which a human being, whose higher evolution begins in a body of flesh and blood, becomes a radiant Soul serving the transformation of Earth into an illumined and sacred planet.

It was the Mind of God that shaped light into material forms as the learning ground for the long involutionary descent of spirit into matter from which humanity is starting to emerge. The Divine Plan for humanity was to gain sufficient experience in physical form to finally awaken from the illusion of matter and discover the light of the soul on a plane of subtler energies and forces.

Scientists have now discovered that material objects can be reduced to particles of light or waves of energy and that forms perceived by the physical eye are actually aggregations of atoms and molecules composed of energy.

This is pivotal to understanding the new world.

All previous planetary cycles have prepared the ground for the realization of Divine Purpose in the world. To manifest the will of God on earth requires the participation of an awakened humanity.

The wheels of evolution have been moving toward this time for millions of years, while lumbering through the dense forests and deep quarries of Mother Earth. To fulfill this purpose is to bring the human being into the orb of divinity – the lighted realm where the Plan is revealed and made manifest.

In ages past and present, the plan of evolution for the earth was transmitted by the Planetary Logos to the spiritual Hierarchy and executed by them on behalf of humanity and the lesser kingdoms. In the Age of Light, human beings will play an integral role in the realization of this Plan. The individual spark of soul light will be fanned into a flame of will, generating the electric fire that will help transform the sphere of planetary life into a civilization of golden light.

The consciousness of the new humanity will expand to the point where its own spiritual light irradiates the lesser kingdoms. Human and spiritual kingdoms will unite in transforming the earth into a sphere of enlightened living.

In the depths of the human being there is a spark of essential Life or Spirit. It is known as the monad -- an individual unit of the Divine Flame from which all life flows. This subtle spark of life contains an aspect of the purpose of God, a realization that dawns in the mind of the seeker on the Path of Return. It is different from the spark of mind that evolves into soul consciousness.

The journey of the Soul through untold thousands of incarnations brings a grasp of the Mind of God; the soul's contact with the monad brings a willingness to sacrifice for the purpose held in the Mind of God for the evolution of our planet.
